INTRO

The mysterious Professor X stole the city key! He sent the mayor a little poem which will supposedly lead him to the key.

“I got a mat and a lock, a metal handle, just knock. What am I?”

Junior Detectives, help the mayor solve the riddle and get the key back to our city!

Did you find the solution? Let’s go and see if there is something hidden there!!

END OF STORY

The city key! Congratulations Junior Detectives, you solved all the riddles and defeated mysterious Professor X! The city is grateful to you!

I come in different sizes, for small or big devices, energy I give, when I'm empty, they don't live

#1 What am I?

I work all day and I work all night. When you need to wake up I will give you a fright

#2 What am I?

I'm a small home with rooms full of mud, the green people live here instead of head they got a bud

#3 What am I?

After you've done a big old poo, press me and I send it down the loo

#4 What am I?

A UFO inside your home, round and shiny, with a hole! No aliens there don't be alarmed! I play videos, you won't be harmed

#5 What am I?

My peel has many layers, slicing them makes you cry, although I got no fingers, my tasty rings you fry

#6 What am I?

We are friends with the computer, we help each other out, he sends me words, and I write them no doubt

#7 What am I?

I love going for walks, resting round your neck, on a freezing winter day use me to keep the cold at bay

#8 What am I?

Don't use me on the walls, your parents will be mad, draw with me in art class and the teacher will be glad

#9 What am I?

My cousins go \"squeak\" and run real quick, I 'm next to the computer, I help you point and click

#10 What am I?

My plates are burning hot, put raw food between them, and after a while, look: comes out crispy, I'm a cook!

What am I?

#11

After a shower, don't flap like an owl, dry yourself down with nice, fluffy _ _ _ _ _

What am I?

#12

I'm big and I'm tall, I'm hollow inside, hang your clothes or use me to hide

What am I?
